Values Alignment/Approach

Access to Resources/Impact of TPP funds

Project Effectiveness

Appropriateness of Project Design

Potential for Long Term Impact

Advisor Opinion

Score

The goal of this section is to better understand the applicant to ensure that TPP funds will have a valuable proportion. More include: attractiveness, compassion, compassionate benefits of the

We need to ensure that fund people who will be able to carry out the work. They need an explicit vision for the future that is evidence-based. It will be necessary for fund those who have a degree of alignment with our values.

Our goal is to fund candidates who are directly involved in their work. We want to ensure that they are to support those who may lack access to the tools needed to achieve impact. We need to ensure that the work involves access to resources and to key resources.

Similarly, we need to ensure that the plan is credible and not just a fantasy. The plan should consider the potential for the project to be leveraged in a meaningful way.

While we do not consider who are as accredited as the applicant, we consider the project of our funding as an improvement to issues of concern.

The applicant is clearly willing to center their online presence shows hate speech or promotion of animal farming, work involves promotion of animal farming, and has a reflective and compassionate, humble approach in their work.

We want to ensure we fund people who at the values perspective, those include: heartivism, to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.

The applicant is open to or has a reflective and compassionate, humble approach in their work.

Values Alignment/Approach

- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant demonstrates a commitment to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.
- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant is from the region but is not a member of the group/community targeted by the project and has not taken significant steps to involve their voices in planning the work.
- The applicant is from the region but has not yet begun their work or implemented their ideas in a meaningful level and so the project has not been shown to be effective or ineffective. The plan is such that it could be an effective project.
- The applicant is from the region but has not taken significant steps to involve their voices in planning the work.
- The applicant demonstrates a commitment to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant demonstrates a commitment to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.
- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant displays hostility at a total lack of representation in consideration of how engaging in mindful or contemplative practices can support more effective change.
- The applicant is from the region but is not a member of the group/community targeted by the project and has not taken significant steps to involve their voices in planning the work.
- The applicant is directly representative of those who are served by the project.
- The applicant is from the region but has not yet begun their work or implemented their ideas in a meaningful level and so the project has not been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their work.
- The applicant is directly representative of those who are served by the project.
- The applicant is from the region but is not a member of the group/community targeted by the project and has not taken significant steps to involve their voices in planning the work.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a commitment to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.
- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a commitment to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.
- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a commitment to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.
- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a commitment to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.
- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a commitment to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.
- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a commitment to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.
- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a commitment to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.
- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a commitment to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.
- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a commitment to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.
- The applicant is actively not aligned with TPP values at this time but there is no evidence that their values are in direct conflict with those of TPP.
- The applicant demonstrates a compassionate, humble approach in their answers and their work.
- The applicant represents a marginalized group in their work and/or has been shown to be effective or ineffective.
- The applicant demonstrates a commitment to self-awareness as a factor in creating change.